Dear Maria,

I know the below email was long as I meant to be through. As you said in our minute phone call, you are telling me you didn't know anything about the below. Taking that at face value, I suggest you call Pastor Landon, your father or someone else to discuss this issue with them (I do believe you guys have a family counselor. After that take a long walk and think everything through. Starting conversations with I am going to address what you wrote to me this one time and never talk about it again does not work for this situation. This needs to be addressed and monitored. Take your time, talk to your pastor, father, therapist or confidant. Let's talk on Tuesday when you have had a chance to digest this. We do share a common bond of caring about the girls.

Note physical exercise is important when dealing with this type of stress (I did a 9 mile hike yesterday before I sent the email and I am about to do a 30 mile bike ride). It is important to release the stress in a positive way. This issue needs to be addressed not swept under the rug, as that is not acceptable and will only make the problem worse. I speak from experience. Again, I was under the impression you were aware of and condoned the situation. Dog Hollow Inn is two blocks away from one of the places he is a regular at and I figured that you knew that was the reason you stayed there. Unfortunately, this is a very real situation and needs to be dealt with. I tried dealing with this on my own but was unsuccessful with all of my attempts. I can do it alone but it will have global effects and I wanted to give you a heads up and consult with you before taking any action.

I am going to call you in a couple of hours after you have had a chance to calm down and reach out to one of the appropriate people. Again, I was told you were aware of all of this and all of your actions indicated you were (See below please). I am sorry to be the one to tell you this but I have no other choice.

Sincerely,

D
